A Prayer from John Wesley's A Collection of Forms of Prayer for Every Day of the Week, 1733 (Monday Evening Prayer)

Thank you, dear Lord, for your love and care for me evidenced in so many ways. Thank you for pardoning the sins I have committed this day; thank you for the opportunities to show love that were well used this day; thank you also for sins avoided on account of your guidance and restraint. Let it be my single ambition, my God, to honor you in every thought, word, and deed; and make me bold to invite all people around me to honor and love you as well.

Your love toward me is patient, so tender, even when I provoke you with my disobedience. Give me such an appreciation of your love for me that I may show the same patient and tender love to my neighbor, especially when he or she opposes me. Stir up within me a zeal to do all in my power, whether in prayer or deed, to promote the safety and happiness of my neighbor; make me active to comfort and relieve all those whom you entrust to my care by bringing me into contact with them. Lord, help me to be peaceful rather than argumentative; help me to be quick to forget an injury and be reconciled to my neighbor, mindful of how many times you have forgiven my provocations. After your own example, make me glad to give good in return for evil, and thus share in the triumph of your love. In all my dealings with my fellow human beings, let me reflect your love, your generous spirit, your desire to do good both to the just and to the unjust. You have so valued each person that you sent your Son for each and every one. Implant, therefore, such a compassion in my heart for people that I will eagerly seek out how I may win them to your love.

Take me, my family, my friends, and my enemies into your protection this night. Refresh me with rest, that I may rise ready to serve you.

Prayer for others and yourself

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

Share the Love of Jesus because It's All about Relationships

How will you or how did you share the love of Jesus with neighbor today with no strings attached?

A Prayer for Evening: Mary's Song from Luke 1:46-55

A Prayer for Bedtime: Simeon's Song from Luke 2:29-32

A Collect from The Book of Common Prayer, 1979

O God, whose glory it is always to have mercy: Be gracious to all who have gone astray from your ways, and bring them again with penitent hearts and steadfast faith to embrace and hold fast to the unchangeable truth of your Word, Jesus Christ your Son; who with you and the Holy Spirit lives and reigns, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.
